

Homework Centre

As the co-ordinator of the after school homework centre, there were many tasks to perform. Ms Walker organised snacks for the students (and sometimes the teachers), and this helped them to fight off the late afternoon munchies and to think clearly and complete their homework assignments. As in previous years, the teachers volunteered to stay back after school and help the students with their work. Mr Jacko drove the school bus and made sure that everyone returned home safely. A huge thank you to all staff who helped out this year.
